NHP Sampling: NHPs are a subset of drugs, captured under the Food and Drugs Act (FDA). As such, they are required to abide by the rules outlined under the FDA. Specific to sampling, the Act states: No person shall distribute or cause to be distributed any drug as a sample.

Therefore, per the FDA, it is not permitted to distribute any sample of a natural health products. From a compliance and enforcement perspective, enforcement action undertaken by Health Canada is done through a risk-based approach. The higher the risk, the more likely compliance action is taken. CHFA does not monitor any NHP sampling at our tradeshow, however, the action of sampling is a business decision that takes into consideration the requirements of the Act and associated Regulations and the likelihood of compliance activity for the action taken. This is a risk that each business should analyze as it develops its exhibition plan for our or any trade show event. CHFA assumes no liability for any enforcement, penalty or fine resulting from any activity related to any person's actions taken at the tradeshow, including offering for sample any NHPs.
